3 The Companies Act 1981 is amended in section 4A by inserting after subsection (3) the following—

“(3A) The Minister’s consent given under subsection (1), in relation to an Initial Coin Offering may be made subject to such conditions as the Minister may consider appropriate to impose. ”.

Inserts Part IIIA

4 The Companies Act 1981 is amended by inserting after section 34 the following—

“PART IIIA

INITIAL COIN OFFERING

Interpretation of Part IIIA

34A (1) In this Part, unless the context otherwise requires—

“blockchain” means a digital ledger or database of transactions relating to digital assets which are recorded chronologically and capable of being audited;

COMPANIES AND LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY (INITIAL COIN OFFERING)
AMENDMENT ACT 2018

“Code of Conduct” means a code of conduct issued under section 34N;

“digital asset” means anything that exists in binary format and comes with the right to use it and includes a digital representation of value that—

- (a) is used as a medium of exchange, unit of account, or store of value and is not legal tender, whether or not denominated in legal tender;
- (b) is intended to represent assets such as debt or equity in the promoter;
- (c) is otherwise intended to represent any assets or rights associated with such assets; or
- (d) is intended to provide access to an application or service or product by means of blockchain;

but does not include—

- (e) a transaction in which a person grants value as part of an affinity or rewards program, which value cannot be taken from or exchanged with the person for legal tender, bank credit or any digital asset; or
- (f) a digital representation of value issued by or on behalf of the publisher and used within an online game, game platform, or family of games sold by the same publisher or offered on the same game platform;

“distributed ledger technology” means a database system in which—

- (a) information is recorded and consensually shared and synchronised across a network or multiple nodes; and
- (b) all copies of the database are regarded as equally authentic;

“electronic” has the meaning given in section 2 of the Electronic Transactions Act 1999;

“expert” includes a technologist, software engineer, valuer, accountant and any other person whose profession gives authority to a statement made by him relating to an Initial Coin Offering;

“FinTech Advisory Committee” means the FinTech Advisory Committee appointed under section 272F;

“Initial Coin Offering” or “ICO” means an offer by a company to the public to purchase or otherwise acquire digital assets;

“ICO offer document” means the document referred to in section 34C;

COMPANIES AND LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY (INITIAL COIN OFFERING)
AMENDMENT ACT 2018

“project” means the product or service to be created or developed as set forth in the ICO offer document;

“promoter” means a company that may be an issuer of an ICO offer document or of a digital asset or other persons who were parties to the preparation of the ICO offer document, but does not include any person by reason only of his acting in a professional capacity for persons engaged in procuring the formation of the company.

(2) Any reference in this Act to offering digital assets to the public shall, subject to any provision to the contrary contained herein, be construed as including a reference to offering them to any section of the public, and references in this Act or in a company’s bye-laws to invitations to the public to purchase digital assets shall, subject as aforesaid, be similarly construed.

(3) For the purposes of this Part—

- (a) a statement included in an ICO offer document shall be deemed to be untrue if it is misleading in the form and context in which it is included; and
- (b) a statement shall be deemed to be included in an ICO offer document if it is contained therein or in any report or memorandum appearing on the face thereof or by reference incorporated therein or issued therewith.

(4) Subsection (2) shall not be taken as requiring any Initial Coin Offering or invitation to be treated as made to the public if it is—

- (a) an offer by the promoter to existing holders of digital assets of the same class as the digital assets comprised in the offer;
- (b) an offer certified in writing by an officer of the company on behalf of the board of directors to be an offer which the board considers as not being calculated to result, directly or indirectly, in the digital assets becoming available—
 - (i) in the case of a local company, to more than 20 persons; and
 - (ii) in the case of an exempted company or a permit company, to more than 35 persons;
- (c) an offer having a private character; or
- (d) an offer certified in writing by an officer of the company on behalf of the board of directors to be an offer which the board considers as not being calculated to result, directly or indirectly, in digital assets becoming available to persons other than persons whose ordinary business involves the acquisition, disposal or holding of digital assets, whether as principal or agent.

COMPANIES AND LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY (INITIAL COIN OFFERING)
AMENDMENT ACT 2018

Restriction on issuing Initial Coin Offering

34B Subject to the provisions of section 4A, no person shall issue an Initial Coin Offering in or from within Bermuda unless that person is a company to which this Act applies and is for the time being registered with the Registrar of Companies under this Act.

Company offering digital assets to public shall publish an ICO offer document

34C (1) Subject to subsection (2), no company shall offer digital assets to the public unless prior to such offer it publishes in electronic form an ICO offer document, and prior to or as soon as reasonably practicable after publication of such ICO offer document, the company shall file with the Registrar (in such form as the Registrar may require), a copy signed by or on behalf of all of the directors of the company.

(2) It is not necessary to file an ICO offer document under subsection (1), at any time or in any circumstances, where—

- (a) the digital assets are listed on an appointed stock exchange or appointed digital asset exchange, or an application has been made for the digital assets to be so listed, and the rules of the appointed stock exchange or appointed digital asset exchange do not require the company to publish and file an ICO offer document at such time or in such circumstances;
- (b) the company is subject to the rules or regulations of a competent regulatory authority and such rules or regulations do not require the company to publish and file an ICO offer document at such time or in such circumstances, except where exemption from publication and filing of an ICO offer document is given by reason of the offer being made only to persons who are resident outside the jurisdiction of the authority; or
- (c) an appointed stock exchange, appointed digital asset exchange or any competent regulatory authority has received or otherwise accepted an ICO offer document or other document in connection with the Initial Coin Offering to the public.

(3) The Registrar shall not accept for filing a copy of an ICO offer document unless it is accompanied by a certificate signed by an attorney or an officer of the company certifying that the ICO offer document contains the particulars required by section 34D.

(4) The directors of any company and promoters of any Initial Coin Offering that fail to comply with this section shall each be liable to a civil penalty.

Contents of an ICO offer document

34D (1) Every ICO offer document shall contain or there shall be attached thereto documents showing—

COMPANIES AND LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY (INITIAL COIN OFFERING)
AMENDMENT ACT 2018

- (a) the name and the address of the registered office or principal office of the promoters;
- (b) the name, description and titles of the officers of the promoter;
- (c) the business or proposed business of the company;
- (d) a description of the project, the proposed timeline for the project including any proposed project phases and milestones;
- (e) the amount of money equivalent (in Bermuda dollars) that the Initial Coin Offering is intended to raise;
- (f) the disclosure as to the allocation of the amounts intended to be raised amongst the classes of any issuance (pre-sale, post-Initial Coin Offering etc.);
- (g) any rights or restrictions on the digital assets that are being offered;
- (h) the date and time of the opening and closing of the offering of digital assets;
- (i) the general Initial Coin Offering risk warning referred to in section 34G;
- (j) a statement as to how personal information will be used.

(2) The ICO offer document shall also comply with any other requirements as may be prescribed by regulations or any Code of Conduct issued in relation to this Part.

(3) Nothing in subsection (1) shall be construed as preventing a promoter from including such other additional information as the promoter considers relevant with respect to the Initial Coin Offering.

Companies offering digital assets to the public

34E (1) Where any company over a period offers digital assets to the public and any of the particulars in an ICO offer document issued by that company ceases to be accurate in a material respect, the company, as soon as reasonably practicable after becoming aware of that fact, shall—

- (a) publish supplementary particulars disclosing the material changes; and
- (b) file a copy of the supplementary particulars with the Registrar.

(2) Each of the directors of any company that fails to comply with this section shall be liable to a civil penalty.

Providing a communication facility; cooling-off rights

34F (1) The promoter shall at all times while the offer is open or suspended, provide an electronic facility that can be used for the following purposes—

COMPANIES AND LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY (INITIAL COIN OFFERING)
AMENDMENT ACT 2018

- (a) for people who access the ICO offer document through the ICO platform—
 - (i) to make posts relating to the offer;
 - (ii) to see posts relating to the offer made by others; and
 - (iii) to ask the company making the offer, or other service provider, questions relating to the offer; and
- (b) for the company or other service provider, as the case may be, to make posts responding to questions and posts.

(2) If a person in relation to an Initial Coin Offering makes an application pursuant to the Initial Coin Offering, the person may withdraw the application within three business days after the application is made.

(3) The withdrawal of an application pursuant to subsection (2) can only be made by a method specified on the ICO platform and the ICO platform must include specific instructions and a means to withdraw.

General Initial Coin Offering risk warning

34G (1) The promoter shall ensure that the general Initial Coin Offering risk warning appears in the ICO offer document and prominently on the ICO platform at all times while the offer is open or suspended.

(2) The general Initial Coin Offering risk warning is a statement that includes the following—

- (a) information regarding any substantial risks to the project which are known or reasonably foreseeable;
- (b) information as to a person's rights or options if the project which is the subject of the Initial Coin Offering in question does not go forward;
- (c) a description of the rights (if any) in relation to the digital assets that are being offered;
- (d) information regarding any disclaimer in respect of guarantees or warranties in relation to the project to be developed or any other asset related to the Initial Coin Offering.

Identification of persons in relation to ICO offer document

34H (1) A company shall, in relation to an Initial Coin Offering, ensure that it applies appropriate measures relating to identification and verification of the identity of persons participating in the Initial Coin Offering.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), the Minister may make such regulations, subject to the negative resolution procedure, as he considers appropriate.

COMPANIES AND LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY (INITIAL COIN OFFERING)
AMENDMENT ACT 2018

Security of digital assets, confidentiality, disclosure of information

34I The company shall ensure that appropriate mechanisms are in place in respect of the security of digital assets issued to recipients, confidentiality, disclosure of information and connected matters and that applicable Bermuda laws are complied with in these respects.

Offences relating to the issue of an Initial Coin Offering

34J (1) Any person who—

- (a) contravenes section 34B; or
- (b) makes or authorizes the making of an untrue statement in an ICO offer document unless he proves either that the statement was immaterial or that at the time he made the statement he had reasonable grounds to believe it was true, commits an offence.

(2) A person convicted of an offence under subsection (1), shall be liable—

- (a) on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding $50,000 or to imprisonment for a period of one year or to both such fine and imprisonment;
- (b) on conviction on indictment, to a fine not exceeding $250,000 or imprisonment for a period of five years or to or to both such fine and imprisonment.

Civil liability for mis-statements in ICO offer document

34K (1) Where an ICO offer document invites persons to purchase digital assets of a company, the following persons shall be liable to pay compensation to all persons who prove that they purchased any digital assets in reliance to his detriment on the ICO offer document for the loss or damage they may have sustained by reason of any untrue statement included therein which is relevant to the Initial Coin Offering that is to say—

- (a) every person who is an officer of the company at the time of the issue of the ICO offer document;
- (b) every person who has consented to be named and is named in the ICO offer document as an officer or as having agreed to become an officer either immediately or after an interval of time;
- (c) a promoter of the Initial Coin Offering; and
- (d) every person who has authorized the issue to the public of the ICO offer document.

(2) No person shall be liable under subsection (1) if he proves—

COMPANIES AND LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY (INITIAL COIN OFFERING)
AMENDMENT ACT 2018

- (a) that, having consented to become an officer of the company, he withdrew his consent before the issue of the ICO offer document, and that it was issued without his authority or consent;
 - (b) that the ICO offer document was issued without his knowledge or consent, and that on becoming aware of its issue he forthwith gave reasonable public notice that it was issued without his knowledge or consent;
 - (c) that, after the issue of the ICO offer document and before any issue of digital assets thereunder, he, on becoming aware of an untrue statement therein, withdrew his consent thereto and gave reasonable public notice of the withdrawal and of the reason therefor;
 - (d) that as regards—
 - (i) every untrue statement not purporting to be made on the authority of an expert or of a public official document or statement, he had reasonable ground to believe, and did up to the time of the issue of the digital assets believe, that the statement was true;
 - (ii) every untrue statement purporting to be a statement made by an expert or contained in what purports to be a copy of or extract from a report or valuation of an expert, it—
 - (A) fairly represented the statement, or was a correct and fair copy of or extract from the report or valuation; and
 - (B) he had reasonable ground to believe and did up to the time of the issue of the ICO offer document believe that the person making the statement was competent to make it and had not withdrawn or altered it; and
 - (iii) every untrue statement purporting to be a statement made by an official person or contained in what purports to be a copy of or extract from a public official document, it was a correct and fair representation of the statement or copy of or extract from the document.
- (3) Where the ICO offer document contains—
- (a) the name of a person as an officer of the company or as having agreed to become an officer of the company thereof, and he has not consented to become an officer, or has withdrawn his consent before the issue of the ICO offer document, and has not authorized or consented to the issue thereof; or
 - (b) a statement by an expert or contains what purports to be a copy of or extract from a report or valuation of an expert, which the expert has withdrawn or altered,

COMPANIES AND LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY (INITIAL COIN OFFERING)
AMENDMENT ACT 2018

the officers of the company, except any without whose knowledge or consent the ICO offer document was issued, and any other person who authorized the issue thereof shall be liable to indemnify the person named as aforesaid or whose consent was required as aforesaid, as the case may be, against the matters set forth in subsection (4).

(4) With respect to subsection (3), the officers of the company referred to in that subsection shall indemnify any such person referred to in that subsection against all damages, costs and expenses to which he may be made liable by reason of his name having been inserted in the ICO offer document or of the inclusion therein of a statement purporting to be made by him as an expert, as the case may be, or in defending himself against any action or legal proceeding brought against him in respect thereof.

(5) Notwithstanding subsection (2)(d), a person shall not be deemed for the purposes of that subsection to have authorized the issue of an ICO offer document by reason only of the inclusion therein of a statement purporting to be made by him as an expert.

When experts are not liable

34L A person referred to as an expert in an ICO offer document shall not be liable under section 34J or 34K if—

- (a) any untrue statement was not made by him; or
- (b) that as regards any untrue statement made by him he was competent to make the statement and—
 - (i) had reasonable grounds to believe and did believe up to the date of the issue of the ICO offer document that it was true; or
 - (ii) on becoming aware that the statement was untrue before the issue of the ICO offer document he had given reasonable public notice of his disassociation from the ICO offer document and the reasons therefor.

Regulations

34M (1) The Minister may make such regulations as he considers expedient providing for the purposes of this Part.

(2) Without prejudice to, and without limiting, the generality of subsection (1), regulations made under subsection (1) shall prescribe the minimum required information that must accompany an application for consent for an Initial Coin Offering under section 4A.

COMPANIES AND LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY (INITIAL COIN OFFERING)
AMENDMENT ACT 2018

Limited liability company offering digital assets to public shall publish an ICO offer document

85C (1) Subject to subsection (2) and to any other enactment, no limited liability company shall offer digital assets to the public unless prior to such offer it publishes in electronic form an ICO offer document, and prior to or as soon as reasonably practicable after publication of such ICO offer document, the limited liability company shall file with the Registrar (in such form as the Registrar may require), a copy signed by or on behalf of all of the managers of the limited liability company.

(2) It is not necessary to file an ICO offer document under subsection (1), at any time or in any circumstances, where—

- (a) the digital assets are listed on an appointed stock exchange or appointed digital asset exchange, or an application has been made for the digital assets to be so listed, and the rules of the appointed stock exchange or appointed digital asset exchange do not require the limited liability company to publish and file an ICO offer document at such time or in such circumstances;
- (b) the limited liability company is subject to the rules or regulations of a competent regulatory authority and such rules or regulations do not require the limited liability company to publish and file an ICO offer document at such time or in such circumstances, except where exemption from publication and filing of an ICO offer document is given by reason of the offer being made only to persons who are resident outside the jurisdiction of the authority; or
- (c) an appointed stock exchange, appointed digital asset exchange or any competent regulatory authority has received or otherwise accepted an ICO offer document or other document in connection with the Initial Coin Offering to the public.

(3) The Registrar shall not accept for filing a copy of an ICO offer document unless it is accompanied by a certificate signed by an attorney or a manager of the limited liability company certifying that the ICO offer document contains the particulars required by section 85D.

(4) The managers of any limited liability company and promoters of an Initial Coin Offering that fail to comply with this section shall each be liable to a civil penalty.

Contents of an ICO offer document

85D (1) Every ICO offer document shall contain or there shall be attached thereto documents showing—

- (a) the name and the address of the registered office or principal office of the promoters;

COMPANIES AND LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY (INITIAL COIN OFFERING)
AMENDMENT ACT 2018
