NOTICE 2008

Local representative may deliver manifest

4 The duty to deliver a manifest may be discharged by the local representative of the ship or aircraft, on behalf of the master or commander.

Offences

5 A person who fails to deliver a manifest as required by this Notice, commit an offence against the Act.

SCHEDULE

COMMERCIAL AIRLINES
Address to which manifest must be delivered:	The communications carrier for the Bermuda Department of Immigration is ARINC . The designated address for the transmission of arrival and departure manifests is: BDADOXH . Airlines must send their required Bermuda API messages to BDADOXH over existing network connections from their Department Control Systems [DCS] host applications.
Mode of delivery:	Airlines must use the standard commercial airline API manifest message format composed in a UN EDIFACT formatting standard wrapped in an IATA Type B message envelope.
When manifest must be delivered:	For both arriving and departing flights: No later than 15 minutes after wheels up. If electronic delivery of the manifest fails, the person responsible for delivering the manifest must inform an Immigration Officer at the LF Wade International Airport as soon as possible after discovering the failure. The manifest must then be delivered immediately after the cause of the failure has been fixed.

PRIVATE AND CHARTER AIRCRAFT
Temporary exemption from requirement to furnish an electronic manifest:	Private and charter aircraft may continue to use the current method of providing either a paper manifest and landing cards or, where applicable, by prior arrangement with the Department of Immigration, emailing an excel spreadsheet to immairport@gov.bm However, an interactive web screen is being developed by ARINC that will allow small airlines and those charters which cannot provide the standard commercial airline API manifest to manually enter the passenger manifests. The web site will be available to all private and charter aircraft over the public internet and will use SSL encryption for security. Once the website has been developed, the details will be published by further Notice in the Government Gazette and the operators of the private jet facilities will be notified accordingly.

CRUISE SHIPS
Address to which manifest must be delivered:	The addresses to which the manifest must to be delivered are: customs_marine@gov.bm and customs_ycr@gov.bm

ADVANCE DELIVERY OF PASSENGER AND CREW MANIFEST
NOTICE 2008

Mode of delivery:	Cruise Ships must use the United States Coast Guard (USCG) national vessel movement center (NVMC) and Customs and Border Protection (CBP) electronic notification of arrival and departure [ENOAD] specifications. This data is sent in either an XML format via an HTTP/SOAP web service protocol or CSV via APIS.
When manifest must be delivered:	A manifest must be delivered no later than 48 hours before the arrival of a ship in Bermuda. If the Chief Immigration Officer requests a departure manifest, it must be delivered no later than 48 hours after departure of the ship from Bermuda. If electronic delivery of the manifest fails, the person responsible for delivering the manifest must send an email to: customs_marine@gov.bm and customs_ycr@gov.bm or inform an Immigration Officer at the LF Wade International Airport as soon as possible after discovering the failure. The manifest must then be delivered immediately after the cause of the failure has been fixed.

PRIVATE YACHTS AND COMMERCIAL VESSELS (other than cruise ships)

NOTICE 2008

Exemption from requirement to furnish electronic manifest:	Private Yachts and Commercial Vessels (other than Cruise Ships) are exempt from the requirement to provide a manifest in electronic format and must continue to declare their passengers and crew in the current manner, i.e. immediately on arrival, private yachts and commercial vessels must provide details relating to the crew and passengers to H.M. Customs either in St. George or in Hamilton depending on where the yacht is moored.
